Galiano Leads Way Again

Once again Galiano has gone over the top in its Red Cross Drive. Following the precedent established over the past years, the islanders have met the target ahead of any other community as well as exceeding their target before any other community in the province had concluded its collections.

Directing the campaign on the island this year was Mrs. A. E. Scoones.

Clean Up And Burn It Up Now!

Fire season is rapidly approaching and residents of the district have been advised by the fire chiefs of the area to carry out a burning-up program before the restrictions apply.

Until the end of April residents may burn their rubbish freely. After that date the burning requires a permit.

"Clean up now and get rid of that fire hazard," is the advice tendered by the fire departments.

WATER VOTE ON APRIL 29

Central Saanich ratepayers will go to the polls on April 29 to vote on the water distribution by-law prepared by the council. By-law calls for the expenditure of $185,000 for the provision of water lines to certain parts of the district. Only those benefiting from the system will be required to pay for the cost.

Youngsters' Classes Are Not Baby-sitting Exercises

Kindergartens and playgrounds have no connection with the department of education or with local school boards unless they are sponsored by the school district and operate within the school property.

Official of a municipal welfare department explained that kindergartens are supervised by his department. While the majority of welfare directors have long urged that such schools should be taken over by education authorities no such action has been taken by the province.

The explanation followed a recent report on a Deep Cove playgroup

Up In The Air So High!

Sanscha means something to these youngsters. And so does the "Y" which has made it possible for some 170 boys and girls in the district to keep fit and to learn the art of body building.

What Friday's fitness classes mean to the young is expressed on the face of Robbie Van der Bui of Sidney as he takes his turn on the trampoline.

In the other picture Cliff Adams, chairman of the newly formed committee to help out with the plan, is discussing with Lloyd Henderson, senior instructor of the Y.M.C.A. in Victoria. Just what is required to keep the classes going.

Sanscha To Stage Music Hall Show In Aid Of New Program

New entry into the field of popular entertainment, Sanscha will present a music hall variety show in Sanscha Hall on Saturday, April 22.

Heading the list will be Reg. Stone, former B.B.C. artist and organist at the popular English seaside resort, Blackpool. Reginald Stone is familiar to many here for his radio and stage appearances in Victoria.

Appearing with the organist will be John Dunbar, baritone, also notable as a radio and TV star; Carl Hemmon, magician; Richard Parkinson, accordionist and Reg. Stover, comedian and musician.

The concert represents the first entertainment program to be offered by Sanscha since its recent entry into the field of juvenile recreation. Proceeds will be used to finance the program.

Delegate

Mr. and Mrs. J. Price, of Vancouver, were guests at the home of the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. N. West, Third St. As Mr. West was attending the Teachers' convention, held in Vancouver during the Easter holidays, he and Mrs. West accompanied their guests on their return journey to the mainland.

JOE AND MABEL GO UNDER

KINSMEN ALL SET FOR GIANT AUCTION SALE ON SATURDAY IN SANSCHA HALL

On Saturday the Sidney Kinsmen Club will formally put an end to the brief life of Joe and Mabel. The communicative couple have chatted through the classified advertisements of The Review for the past several weeks as they planned to patronize the giant auction sale to be staged by the Kinsmen on Saturday.

Campaign Is Closed Off At $1,500

Red Cross campaign in the area between North Saanich high school and McTavish Road and the village of Sidney has been completed.

Directing the drive, Mrs. G. R. Stuart reports that the collection stands at slightly more than $1,500.

Any resident who has not been canvassed may leave his cheque at either of the banks in Sidney or he may mail it direct to Mrs. Stuart.

HIGH SCHOOL GOES FESTIVE ON SATURDAY

Festive mood will be evident at Mount Newton junior high school on Saturday evening. The school parent-teacher association will stage its spring carnival at 7 p.m. Proceeds will be devoted to the augmentation of scholarship funds and for other P.T.A. activities.

The evening will feature stalls and contests, with movies and games. Special attraction will be a pet stall, while students will offer a program of entertainment.

day in Sanscha Hall.

With the untimely death of Joe and Mabel will come a collection of considerably more than 200 items to be sold by auction on Saturday afternoon.

Items for the home, garden and family transportation will be offered under the hammer commencing at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Auctioneering service will be donated to the club by Maynard's, of Victoria, who have directed the local service club in the planning of the auction.

Collection will be on view on Saturday morning from nine o'clock until the time of the sale.

Air Cadets Travel To Comox

Air cadets from all parts of Vancouver Island travelled to the R.C. A.F. Station at Comox last week to take part in a series of contests in drill, shooting and other activities.

The contingent of 20 from Sidney travelled up-island on Thursday evening and spent the night in barracks at the air force station. They were transported home on Friday evening.

The squadron was accompanied by the commanding officer, Flt Lt J. R. Hannan, P.O. Frank Richards and civilian instructor, W. de Macedo.

Acceptance To Indicate Confidence

Presentation of the by-law in Saanich School District will not only be a question of public acceptance of the building program. It will also be an indication of public confidence in the board of trustees.

On three separate occasions in the past a by-law has been presented by trustees and has been rejected by the electorate.

On Monday evening while the trustees of the district were discussing the by-law Chairman Reginald Sinkinson was asked what would be the result of failure. There would be some resignations, admitted the chairman.

Lewis Harvey noted that his would not be among them.

Mixed Reaction To Plan

Reaction to the new by-law has been mixed. On Friday evening a group of about 60 ratepayers from various parts of the school district established a Schools for Saanich committee which will be responsible for a concerted campaign for the passage of the by-law.

At the same time Capt. M. D. A. Darling, secretary of the Deep Cove Property Owners' Association, has stated that he will not recommend any active opposition to the by-law although it has been prepared in such a manner as to differ sharply from the program recommended by himself and his associates.

Newly formed Central Saanich Associated Taxpayers has expressed opposition to the by-law.

New Party Man Calls For Aid To Farmer In Face Of Burden

Land taxes were fair a hundred years ago to finance school costs, but not today "as the small farmer is having a desperate time staying in existence", Esquimalt-Saanich New Party candidate Glen Hamilton told a meeting of about 100 people in Douglas C.C.F. Hall on Friday evening. He said that federal funds must be allocated to the provinces for school construction.

Mr. Hamilton called for protection for B.C. fruit growers from the irresponsible dumping of strawberries and other fruits by California growers. He said that "our flourishing Saanich bulb industry is being threatened with extinction by imports of cheap Japanese bulbs as permitted under present government tariff policies".

ONLY HOPE

Speaking on health, Mr. Hamilton said that nearly every civilized country in the world except Canada and the U.S. now has a national health plan. "We do not need a Royal Commission on this," he asserted. "The government of Saskatchewan, with a will to act is going forward with such a plan."

Speaking in support of Mr. Hamilton was Ernest Regier, M.P. for Burnaby-Coquitlam. He said that the United Nations was the only hope for the world and his recent attendance as a parliamentary observer at the U.N. has proven to him that the stature of this body has increased.

Nations now send their top diplomats as delegates to the U.N. and members are no longer afraid to stand up to the two cold war blocks, the U.S. and the U.S.S.R., he stated.

Sudden Death Of John Mead

Former naval officer and lottery proprietor of a driving school in Sidney, John Philip Charles Mead died suddenly at his home on Tuesday, April 11.

Mr. Mead established his home in North Saanich seven years ago. A year or so ago he launched the Peninsula Driving School and watched it develop into a sound undertaking.

The late Sidney businessman, who made his home at 11333 Chalk Road, Deep Cove, was born in Hertfordshire, England, in 1906. He had been engaged in yacht broking and a driving school in London. During the war he served with the Royal Navy, completing his service with the rank of Lieutenant-Commander.

He leaves his wife, Catherine, at home and two brothers in England.

Last rites will be observed at Holy Trinity Church, Patricia Bay, on Thursday, April 13, at 2 p.m., with Rev. F. C. Vaughan-Birch officiating. Cremation will follow at Royal Oak.

FLOWERS AND SHRUBS TORN OUT

SIDNEY GARDENS ARE TORN APART BY VANDALS DURING HOURS OF DARK

Damage amounting to hundreds of dollars has been inflicted on private gardens in the Village of Sidney. During the week-end flowers and shrubs were torn out of gardens and strewn about neighboring properties and on the road. The damage was done during the night.

A group of residents who have suffered from this petty vandalism have announced that they are prepared to pay a reward for the conviction of the persons responsible. One of the owners told The Review that the group has been advised to withhold names for fear of reprisals.

"I could have wept when I saw the damage," one victim told The Review, "three years of hard work were destroyed overnight."

The vandals have achieved considerable results. One of the victims has decided to sell her property and leave Sidney in favor of a community where she can tend her garden without interference.

There has been a wave of malicious damage to gardens in recent weeks within the village.

A widow whose garden was wrecked last week reports that she has suffered from this "hoodlumism" for the past three years in succession. She has sat up through half the night on several occasions to identify the culprits but has not yet been able to recognize any.

The incidents are being investigated by R.C.M.P.

$675,000 School Building By-law To Be Presented Within Next Six Weeks

—Controversial High School Included

New school building by-law will be presented in Saanich School District this spring. The by-law closely resembles earlier programs offered by the board of trustees but has been pared down from earlier presentations to a total of $675,000. Currently under study by the department of education, the by-law will be presented at the earliest possible date, probably within the next six weeks.

Biggest single item on the program is again the new high school at Wesley Road, Cordova Bay, planned at a cost of $340,000. The most controversial factor in the program, the high school will be equipped with a gymnasium, as distinct from an auditorium.

There will also be provided facilities for home economics and industrial arts. The three provisions have been under steady fire since the defeat of the last by-law.

A section of the school district has called for the construction of a school without these facilities, while a second faction in the district has campaigned for their inclusion.

The Wesley Road school is planned as an "11-teaching area school" to serve grade 11 and 12 students residing in the south and central portions of the school district. The school will be of masonry construction, with two-storey classroom wings. The gymnasium may or may not be of this type of construction. Under the Saanich municipal regulations a two-storey building of this type must be of fireproof construction.

A further $35,000 will provide equipment and furnishings for the new school.

Earlier policy of the school board to establish new single-room and two-room elementary schools in various parts of the district has been abandoned in view of the decision of the department of education to approve the inclusion of grade 7 in the elementary schools. It was not considered practical to house seven grades in one or two rooms.

The explanation followed a recent report on a Deep Cove playgroup

Elementary School Additions

The by-law, accordingly, calls for the provision of additional rooms to many of the district's elementary schools to accommodate the extra grade. Following are listed the elementary schools to be thus augmented with the anticipated cost of each project:

BRENTWOOD
Site extension to enlarge the playground area and a two-classroom extension, $25,000.

BEAVER LAKE
Two-classroom addition together with extensions to the present building to provide a sick bay area, janitor storage and book storage area. The cost is presently housed in a corridor and janitorial equipment is located in the furnace room. $30,000.

CORDOVA BAY
Three-classroom addition, one room of which will replace a sub-standard classroom currently in use. A class presently held in the activity room will also be appropriately housed. $42,000.

DEEP COVE
Wood and coal furnace in the old building to be replaced with a modern furnace, $2,500.

KEATING
One new classroom to replace the existing substandard room presently in use. $14,000.

SAANICHTON

Native Daughter Looks West

Saanichton Girl Recalls Home

A native daughter of this district has gone a long way in the business world of Canada. She is Miss Jean MacCortie, who was born on Rose Farm, Mount Newton Cross Road, in Central Saanich.

Miss MacCortie's father, E. H. MacCortie, now a resident of Albert Head, was also born on the same Saanich Peninsula farm. His mother, also a native of Vancouver Island, was considered to be one of the first white women born on the island. E. H. MacCortie is now 86 years of age, so the family goes a long way back in the history of Vancouver Island.

Miss MacCortie, who was seen by a Review man in Toronto last week, was delighted to talk about the old days here. With a woman's natural reticence about discussing her age,

Rock Tumbler Is Donated To Retarded People By Club

Regular monthly meeting of the Sidney Rock Club was held in the banquet room of Hotel Sidney on March 30. President Dr. W. Leach was in the chair.

The minutes of the February meeting were adopted as read. There were 25 members and six guests present.

Mrs. D. Horton reported on a visit of Mesdames D. Horton, F. Higginbottom and W. Wing to the school for retarded people, both young and older. They delivered the rock tumbler barrel to the school. The tumbler will be used for the polishing of small pebbles for simple lapidary work.

Mrs. W. Clark thanked the members for this gift which was highly appreciated by the school.

The matter of the club library was tabled until the April meeting. The club has decided that future meetings will be held in St. Andrew's Hall.

Mrs. W. Clark gave a talk on the work which is being carried on with retarded people in Victoria. She then showed a film of similar work being carried on in another city. The film made members very thankful for healthy, happy children. With gratification club members learned that there are people who spend their time and effort to work with those unfortunates to teach them hobbies. Stewart Holland, of the department of mines, in Victoria, showed many beautiful colored slides of the Alaska Highway as well as Cassiar and many other mines and locations in the northern and western portions of B.C., where the mode of transportation is by horseback, helicopter and in some cases plain old "shank's mare".

In appreciation of the most interesting talk, Mr. Holland was presented with a tie clip. The material for this gift was supplied and worked by members of the club.

G. Williams won the door prize which was a pin of rhodinite, donated by Mrs. M. Virtue. The meeting closed with a social period and refreshments.

Early Easter Coincides With Blooms

Early spring proved to be more favorable for local flower growers this year than were the eastern markets.

All operations in the southern part of Vancouver Island could promptly fill the demands for the Easter market in the eastern provinces of Canada. Heavy import of flowers from Europe proved prejudicial to sales of local produce over the holiday.

Shipped by air, the daffodils of Pacific Flowers Ltd. were packed exclusively in the new and very well received Waterwell cartons.

As Easter was later in 1960, flower shipments at that time also contained large quantities of tulips. This year local flower growers had to concentrate mainly on daffodils as it was too early for tulips.

The total of 13,000 boxes of flowers shipped this year from Patricia Bay Airport compares very favorably with last year's output.

"THE CROWDED SKY" AND COURT DRAMA AT GEM

Next film which will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 13, 14 and 15, "The Crowded Sky", is a Warner Bros. color production. The screen play, starring Dana Andrews, Rhonda Fleming, Efram Zimbalist, Jr., John Kerr, Anne Francis, Keenan Wynn and Troy Donahue, is based on the best selling novel of the same title by Hank Searls. The story which was a Literary Guild selection, probes the emotions of the passengers and crews of a transcontinental airliner and a navy jet fighter plane involved in a fateful incident in the sky. The suspenseful film follows the entertainment tradition of the successful air-drama, "The High and The Mighty". The actors of "The Crowded Sky" had to learn the jargon which is used by airline personnel. Some of the terms used and their meanings are: throttle pusher, flight engineer; den throttle, flight manager; geese, passenger; fan, propeller, and stove pipe, a jet fighter plane. The screenplay by Charles Schnee was produced by Michael Hyde-White and directed by Joseph Pevney.

garde, the latter in a dual role, co-star in the suspenseful courtroom drama by M.G.M. to be presented by the Gem Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Apr. 17, 18 and 19. The story revolves about a suit for libel brought against a British newspaper has published a letter charging that Sir Mark Loddon is an imposter and that the man claiming to be the British aristocrat is actually an ex-actor who looks exactly like him. At the sensational trial the evidence mounts against Mark and even his wife comes to believe that he is not the man she had known before he went away to war. The film was directed by Anthony Asquith and produced by Anatole de Gruenwald from the screen play by Mr. de Gruenwald and Karl Tunberg. Robert Morley, Paul Massie and Wilfrid Hyde-White also have prominent roles.

Deputy Minister To Speak

I have just received a blanket invitation to pass on to readers of The Saanich Star, from Miss Milburn, honorary secretary-treasurer of the Thetis Park Nature Sanctuary Association, to attend a meeting in the Douglas Bldg. Cafeteria on Thursday, April 20, at which Dr. Turner, deputy minister of recreation and conservation will be the speaker.

Anyone interested in this subject is invited to attend.

At this time of year over 30 herbaceous plants are in flower at Thetis Park and these have been labelled. Twelve litter cans have been attached to trees on the trails and will be emptied at regular intervals.

Work for a new sign map is the work of Mr. Seyser and shows a map of the park, in which trails are shown in different colors.

Spray paint to correspond to the trails appears along these paths, and at the beginning of each trail, is information as to length, whether an easy or a difficult terrain and any other point of interest.

A visit to the Thetis Sanctuary is suggested to all nature lovers. Any information may be obtained by phoning Miss Milburn at EV 4-9052. —D.L.H.

YOUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Whether our home is in Central Saanich, or Salt Spring Island, or North Saanich, or Pender Island or Galiano Island, we are well served, for 12 months in every year, by an active Chamber of Commerce. Chamber of Commerce Week is being celebrated across Canada during the period from April 16 to 22—but the good works of the organization are felt in every community every day.

Accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce touch nearly every citizen. In most communities the Chamber is responsible for tourist promotion. Usually it takes a leading part in community affairs, improving relations between farms and businessmen, sparking interest in education, taking a lead in fire prevention and health and safety work, sponsoring clean-up and beautification weeks, and a host of similar projects. Few Chambers, of course, do all these things because they are in the main a volunteer organization and even the secretary is a volunteer, perhaps receiving an annual honorarium.

The interest of the Chamber of Commerce is not, however, confined only to local matters. Just as the citizens of a municipality is also a citizen of his province and of his country, so the Chamber of Commerce has provincial and federal interests in addition to its local activities. In the provinces there are provincial Chambers, and indeed many regions within a province have their own associations to advance the interests of their particular region. At the provincial level the activity of the Chamber of Commerce is co-ordinated and presented to the provincial government through the provincial Chamber of Commerce—a provincial federation of Boards and Chambers.

At the federal level the activity of the Chamber of Commerce is co-ordinated and presented to the federal government through The Canadian Chamber of Commerce. The policy of this national group is determined by the majority votes of the member Boards and Chambers—each of which has one vote of equal strength.

An organization of this kind is a stabilizing influence on a community. It is instrumental in focusing greater attention on municipal, provincial and national affairs. It brings about greater understanding among various segments of the community and it makes the community a better place in which to live. The Chamber of Commerce deserves the support and understanding of all the citizens in the community. Every city, town and even village should have a strong and lively Chamber of Commerce if it is to make the most of its potentials and if community life is going to be as pleasant as possible.

THAT RADAR TRAP!

MOTORISTS everywhere have looked askance at the radar trap even when, as thoroughly law-abiding drivers, they have not been victims of its operation.

Speeding in many areas is undoubtedly an invitation to disaster. Nevertheless, in every part of the continent and, indeed, in every part of the world, the problem of checking drivers coupled with the problem of being checked has been one of constant friction. Some communities have financed their operations by a close attention to the speed limit, even to the extent of provoking contraventions of the law in order to gain a prosecution.

While this has not been a characteristic of local law-enforcement, the awareness that some unscrupulous communities have done so, in addition to the fact that many drivers have honestly been convinced that the checking police officer was in error, has led to a distaste towards any method of checking speed.

The radar trap has not been popularly accepted, even while the average driver has accepted its accuracy. There appears to be some considerable question as to the accuracy claimed for it and it is possible that drivers convicted of speeding through a radar trap might well have been conforming to the speed limit despite the evidence of the electronic device.

The Campbell River Courier, published up-island, recently commented on the accuracy of the radar system. Following is the editorial reprinted from the Courier:

It would be much consolation to the eighteen motorists who last week paid fines after having been caught in an RCMP radar trap at Willow Point, but drivers everywhere will be relieved to know that the electronic device is not so infallible as police authorities would have us believe.

A national U.S. magazine reveals that in many courts of that country radar evidence is not even accepted. One judge accidentally flung a set of keys in his pocket and got a reading on a radar unit in his courtroom. The author of the magazine article sat in a police car and watched the needle on the machine register 35 miles per hour when a policeman dangled some keys 30 feet away, without a car in sight.

The device is subject not only to defects within itself, but to such outside influences as short-wave radios, almost any type of radio impulse, and loud noises. A bicycle bell has been observed to give a reading of 30 miles per hour.

A leading American electronics expert, a former radar consultant to the Secretary of the Navy, says: "The use of radar to catch speeders has more holes in it than a Swiss cheese."

One of the most frightening aspects of radar is that it is accepted in B.C. courts as unassailable evidence. Fines are levied automatically, no matter how hard a person might plead his innocence. It will probably be a long time before the idea that the machine is not perfect gets to this country. We usually follow at least a few years behind the U.S. But it is heartening to know that some day a man will once again be able to defend himself.

Letters To The Editor

ARE THEY FRILLS?

It is sincerely hoped that those citizens who are opposed to including gymnastics, etc., in the estimates for a new school by-law (ill-advisedly classed these as "frills"), may have listened to News Magazine on Channel 2 TV last Sunday night. If so, they must surely by now have changed their point of view. For it was made patently clear that facilities for physical fitness training in this country are sadly lacking. We apparently are not, physically speaking, a race that has anything to boast about, and great stress was laid upon the importance of physical well-being, and the need for adequate facilities and programming in this direction.

Surely we cannot seriously want to treat our youngsters as "Second-Class Citizens"? Yet that is exactly what we are doing when we talk of denying them what has now become considered a basic part of normal education! Are we willing to throw out our own TV sets, fridges, washing machines, automobiles, and all the modern gadgets and gimmicks which are supposed to make life a little easier and more pleasant? No, of course we are not! Yet we want the children to grow up in the "good old-fashioned way", with no gymnastics or special advantages. Keep our own "frills", but for goodness' sake, don't let the kids have any? Is that really what we want in School District 62? And this, even though educators assure us that these are not "frills" at all, but a necessary part in modern-day education of the "whole man"?

Reunion At Sidney Home

We talk a lot, too, about the three "R's", and the importance of "Reading, 'Riting and 'Rithmetic". All well and good. We say very little, however, about the value of teaching "Integrity", "Good Sportsmanship", and to "Love Thy Neighbor". Yet there is no provision in our school curriculum for this most essential training. If we must take a stand on education, why not take a constructive one in this direction? Had we our such training ourselves "in our day" there would be less talk now about "frills" and more concern about the value of ethics; less quibbling about a few dollars added to our personal budget and more awareness of the need for adequate preparation of training for a future in this age of the atom and automation.

After all, we haven't left much of a legacy to the youngsters of today except a legend of "greed" and "grapple". We preach one set of rules and practise quite another. Perhaps we didn't have quite as good facilities in schools "of our day" but we had more room in the world than more countries, and fewer people. It isn't the youngsters' fault that we have a "population explosion" on our hands; nor is it their fault that our government chooses to collect taxes in one way or another. Why, then, should we want to give them anything less than the very best we have to offer?

Surely, in this district which is noted for its many service clubs and churches of all denominations, for the residential timbre drawn from all parts of the world, there is room for the spark of interest to take hold and make this district, once again, a little better-than-average place to live? Let's not spoil it all, through lack of time and interest, by providing second-rate buildings to house what we hope will be the first-rate citizens of tomorrow.

Let it not be said, in future years, that "Yes, the Saanich Peninsula is a residential paradise, boasting all modern conveniences in a setting of island loveliness; but, the residents there provide only sub-standard schools for their youngsters". For shame, if this should ever come to pass! It won't, of course, because this isn't—it just can't be.—"us"!
(Mrs. R. F.) M. E. CORNISH,
Box 8,
Sidney, B.C.,
April 8, 1961.

FRILLS OR NECESSITIES?

There have been many controversial points raised at recent meetings regarding "frills" in the high schools of School District No. 63 both in connection with the forthcoming by-law and the by-law that was defeated last year.

The majority of the taxpayers appear to object to the inclusion of space for home economics rooms, industrial art shops, and gymnasiums. Have they not overlooked the fact that the department of education has included these subjects in our present-day curriculum? No by-law, defunct or undeleted, can change this policy.

If individuals do not favor the inclusion of these subjects then they should vote for a government party who is in agreement with their views on education. However, it should be borne in mind that, in keeping with today's philosophy of education, each and every child is entitled to an education regardless of academic ability. This being the case, one must realize that a variation of program must be offered to suit the individual ability of the student. Where one may thrive on a wholly academic program, another may be barely able to cope with it and may profit more by taking a minimum of academic material and more shop work, and home economics.

The Chant Commission report emphasizes this present-day philosophy of equal educational opportunities and recommends that an even greater variety of manual skills be offered to students who are not suited entirely to academic work.

Having accepted the fact that home economics, industrial arts and physical education will continue to be a part of the school curriculum (unless there is a change in government policy), let us not waste any more time in discussing the "pros" and "cons" of the offering of these subjects. Rather, let us decide which would be the better way to provide for them—to build more gyms and shop facilities or to transport the students to other areas.

Sisters Meet After 20 Years In Different Provinces

Home of Mrs. Ed. Rooke, 2413 Amelia Ave., was the scene of a rare occasion when seven sisters held a reunion after 20 years. Depicted above, from left to right, are: Mrs. Harold (Alma) Van Loven, Lip-ton, Sask.; Mrs. Ted (Helen) Lipton, Sask.; Mrs. Tony (Kay) Schuette, Bingham, Sask.; Mrs. Harry (Marie) Funk, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask.; Mrs. Bert (Eleanor)

WORLD'S GREAT THREAT

Brook Chisholm and Dr. Keenlyside have different opinions as to the world's greatest threat. One says the population explosion is greatest while the other thinks atomic war is greatest.

Could they be both right and both wrong? Or could they both be all wet?

History tells us that the desire for trade and expansion created industry, commerce and wealth. Such wealth tempted other people and nations to take by force the things they desired but could not make or buy. The cycle of trade, industry, commerce and war has repeated itself many times. Where do we stand now?

Ottawa is being pressured to apply trade restrictions. The European block of nations have a pact. Japan requires larger export markets. Germany has streaked past us all in export production. Russia is now entering the export market. And so it goes.

Who will our customers be? Or do we dare divert more labor and materials to war machines? If not, what will we do and how?

The Royal Bank's president, W. E. McLaughlin is critical of Mr. Coyne's Bank of Canada policies. Both men confine their studies to that measuring device and transportation implement, "money". The element of humanity and physical needs and desires are taken for granted.

Schuette, Moose Jaw, Sask.; Mrs. Ed. (Eva) Rooke, Sidney, and Mrs. Chris (Christina) Grovum, also of Sidney.

The larger family also includes four brothers of whom two, Frank and Leonard Winterlik, of Vancouver and New Westminster, respectively, joined the happy get-together on Easter Sunday. Joseph, of Punnichy, Sask., and John of Dysart, Sask., were unable to attend. All were born on a farm at Dysart, Sask.

Should we not approach our problems from the opposite direction? Should we not first consider the physical needs and desirable services, then provide the money (credit) necessary if they are possible?

Should we not discard the gold and sterling standards, and establish universal credit balance through a world bank, stepping down through national central banks to our accepted commercial banks? Such a system should work smoothly as it would not be tied to the amount of gold available, but to a nation's ability to produce desirable goods and services.

But by far the greatest problem of all is to inform enough people quickly enough to establish the peaceful atmosphere required for rational thinking.

OF THE DEAD

One of your correspondents (Feb. 15) when writing of a certain distinguished person who is now dead referred to him as "one of the blessed spirits."

There are many who still hold the opinion that our beloved dead go to heaven and become "blessed spirits" immediately after death, although the Bible makes it clear that "the dead know not anything." (Ecclesiastes 9:5). They are asleep she admitted that she would never see 40 again—but she looks younger. During the Second World War she served in the Royal Canadian Navy and enjoyed her service career. After demobilization, she was employed for a short time as a typist in Victoria.

Yielding to the wanderlust, she travelled to Toronto and secured clerical employment with the well-known advertising firm of Batten, Barton, Dunstone and Osborn. Her talents were quickly recognized by her firm and she has climbed the ladder to the post of space buyer.

HAPPY ASSOCIATIONS
I have enjoyed the commercial life of Toronto but have never forgotten my happy associations on the Saanich Peninsula," she said. Miss Marcotte is only her professional name. Three years ago she married a Toronto man who has been associated with a large wholesale paper house. But another change is looming.

Her husband is leaving the paper industry and will strike out in a new field as a golf pro.

Her husband and wife will be leaving Toronto shortly for the west coast, probably California. He will be active on the golf course all day—and his wife is looking for a suitable opening in advertising agency work in her new surroundings.

until the resurrection morning when "the dead in Christ" shall be called forth to meet their Lord in the air (1. Thess. 4:16-17).

It seems to me that unless we hold to the Bible teaching concerning the unconscious state of the dead, we have no safeguard against the deceptions of spiritism. Quite recently I read in the daily newspaper of a certain prominent church leader who had (or supposedly had) held conversations with Henry VIII, and also about a certain British spiritualist who claimed to have talked with Mackenzie King.

One can see how messages purported to have come from leaders of by-gone days could have a strong influence over those who believe that the dead are still alive in some spirit world. But those who hold to the Bible teaching will not be deceived by the evil spirits who endeavour to mislead by pretending they are the spirits of the dead.

Especially alarming is the fact that, in some religious circles, the adoption of spiritism is being advocated in the interests of world-wide church unity. Is this not a time when the advice given by Isaiah should be especially heeded? "When they tell you," said he, "to consult mediums and ghosts that cheer and gibber in low murmurs, ask them if a nation should not rather consult its God. Say, 'Why consult the dead on behalf of the living? Consult the message and the counsel of God.'" (Isaiah 8:19, Dr. Moffatt's translation).

Springtime Is Fast Approaching

R. Allen And R. Hill Pioneered First English Mail Service

By DORIS LEEDHAM HOBBS
Some time in June there is to be a change in our postal arrangements and letters will be sorted in Victoria once more. A great nuisance, for my address will be a new one for the third time in the years I have enjoyed living in Royal Oak. Just for the interest of it, I looked up the word "mail" and found it is derived from a word in old High German "malaha", which means a leather wallet—a leather wallet used to carry letters and so carry "mail".

Away back in the time of Cyrus the king of Persia, posts were instituted and news—chiefly of fighting and armies—was dispatched from location or post to post along defined routes. In England, in 1481, Edward IV made posts every 20 miles along the main roads, and boys on horseback took the news letters or "mail" in leather bags from these fixed positions, rather like a relay race. Richard III instituted the system of couriers.

England for many years had shocking roads. No doubt the good old Roman roads stood up to the great lumbering springless coaches drawn by six horses, but once off the beaten track these foundered in soft clay and were impossible in many counties of England in winter.

TOLL GATES
As the roads improved, toll gates collected money which each county used to improve its roads. Mail carriers were exempted from paying tolls.

It remained for a clever young Cornish man, Ralph Allen, who went from his father's inn at St. Blazey, Cornwall, to help his grandmother to keep her little post office and to improve the service. His efficiency won him a postmastership.

Country posts in 1720 were in complete disorder and brought the government only £4000 a year. Allen obtained the right of farming them and so improved the postal service that most towns of note had mail six days a week.

About this time mail coaches were built and carried passengers and mail across England, changing horses at regular intervals or post houses. The mail coaches and their guards armed with blunderbusses, figure in many of our well known stories. Highwaymen abounded and it was no safe journey for these swift vehicles.

PENNY POST
Ralph Allen prospered, married the daughter of General Wade (a great soldier) and soon had an income of £12000 a year. The government profited greatly from Allen's management of the country mails under which the carrying of letters no longer depended on the mileage but was made uniform.

In the next century it was Roland Hill who started the penny post with resulting huge revenues for the post office.

The first street letterbox or pillar-box was placed at the corner of Fleet St. and Farringdon St., London. Until the coming of the railways all letters were carried by coach or special courier.

Hugh Farquhar To Address P.T.A.
"The development of a university in Victoria" will be the subject of an address by Hugh Farquhar, executive assistant to the principal of Victoria College, on April 17, when the P.T.A. will hold its April meeting.

The meeting will be held in Mahon Hall, Ganges, commencing at 8 p.m. Mr. Farquhar is a professor of education, director of the summer school and vice-chairman of the University Development Board.

AS OTHERS DO
Electrical goods would cost much less in Canada if manufacturers paid workers the Italian rate of 40 cents an hour or Japan's 56 cents an hour.

Old Age Pensioners Enjoy Gathering In Sidney Hall

Some hundred members of Sidney Branch No. 25, Old Age Pensioners' Organization enjoyed a friendly gathering on Thursday afternoon, Apr. 6, at the K.P. Hall on Fourth St., Sidney.

Secretary of the branch, Robert Thompson, informed pensioners that local electronics expert Peter L. Hahn, who operates a TV and radio repair shop on Beacon Ave., offered a 25 per cent reduction on all TV and radio repairs for members of Branch No. 25, O.A.P.O. Secretary Thompson had high praise for Mr. Hahn's generous offer to the old people of the district.

Several new members were welcomed into the branch by President Roy H. Tuttle who, on behalf of his organization, extended warm wishes to the newcomers.

Paying tribute to the late Norris Gorton, a valuable member who recently passed away, the gathering also remembered several others from their ranks who were called by death during the past year.

In conclusion of the business meeting Secretary Thompson congratulated the following on their birthdays: Alan Calvert, Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. Wylie, Mrs. Grexton, Dave Ritchie and Guy C. Powell.

After refreshments, served by ladies of the organization, Sidney's elderly people enjoyed the highlights of the afternoon, a variety concert performed by the Silverthread Concert Party, from Victoria. A hearty applause thanked the singing group.

consisting of retired people whose main goal is to provide entertainment for old age pensioners.

Mrs. Daisie Cole, entertainment convener of Branch No. 25, very ably acted as mistress of ceremonies. She also rendered some musical selections which drew appreciative applause.

Secretary Thompson told The Review that the monthly meetings of his organization are always exceptionally well attended although the area of Branch 25 is comparatively large and transportation is not always readily available. At present there are 207 members in the local pensioners' group.

Mrs. M. C. Watts asked members to bring flowers to Saanich when the hall would be decorated for a symphony concert. A trophy cup donated to the club by the president was presented to Mrs. J. Mitchell for her entries in the monthly club competitions for the past year.

The May competition will be an arrangement of tulips and an arrangement of other spring flowers.

FLOWER ARRANGEMENT

The business part of the meeting was kept as short as possible in order to give Mrs. Geo. Wiggan, of the Victoria Horticultural Society, plenty of time to demonstrate her skill in flower arranging. "The Use of Flowers for Enjoyment in the Home" was her message and she proceeded to make it look very easy to handle her materials so that they did just what she wished.

While working with floral clay, pin holders, snips and twisters which she called mechanics of flower arranging, she was chatting about texture, lines, color and flower shapes.

Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Andrews poured coffee for the social period.

The flower show on April 22 will be restricted to amateur growers. Non-members as well as members

RESUME OF CANADA

Local Women's Club Prepares Book For Northern Rhodesia

Business and Professional Women's Club of Sidney has prepared an impressive brochure on Canada. The book consists of 18 pages, 17 ins. by 14 ins. on a special paper from the Powell River Co. The cover shows the national crest and a picture of the parliament buildings at Ottawa. Within the book each page is bordered by a gold-traced maple leaf.

The book was presented to the national vice-president of the club, Miss Elizabeth Forbes at a Victoria club meeting on Monday evening, Apr. 10. The book was on display on Saturday in the Sidney store of Bernard Shaw's. It will now be mailed to Northern Rhodesia for the display there at the international board meeting of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Sidney club, under the convener-ship of Mrs. May Caldwell, has spent several weeks preparing and de-signing the book. All phases of Canadian life are included, with a full-page reference to Sidney and dis-trict.

EMBLEMS Included are a red-coated moun-tain in the centre of a page of coins and stamps, maps, pictures and the floral emblems of the 10 provinces and of the Yukon and Northwest Ter-ritories. The Canadian Indian, Can-ada at work and play, birds and wildlife of Canada are also featured.

The sessions are promoted by the national employment service and sponsored by the Victoria Rotary Club which makes itself responsible for providing the counsellors.

MORE ABOUT BY-LAW

ination of the provision for mainten-ance shop renovations will reduce the total to $670,000. Of this sum, 25 per cent will be a direct levy on local properties, while the remaining 75 per cent is met by the province out of general revenues.

Apart from operating costs of the school district, which have no bear-ing on by-law funds, the cost of the proposed by-law has been estimated by trustees at rather less than one mill. On an assessment of $5,000 the tax increase would be less than $5 per annum as a result of the by-law.

Signatures of one member from each of one club in every province are also listed with the signatures of the national executive, women senators, legislators, authors and artists.

On the back page is an autumn maple leaf with a poem of friendship and a farewell message.

Pencillings . . . from Pender

By V. SHIRLEY
School's in again, and the kids are now looking forward to the Victoria Day holiday. . . Took a look through Prior Park the other day. It wintered well, and tables and benches are unmarred by all the rain—ready for summer picnics. And the man who engineered the park job, Jack Milburn, came back to Pender at the week-end, with Mrs. Milburn, and left with a handsome boxer pup from the Nofield kennels. . . That Treasury Board in Victoria seems to be nailed down tight over the funds for the Port Washington slip. We're looking for a lever to pry the lid. Yoo hoo, Mr. Westwood! . . . Drove down to South Pender, Saturday. Aren't we lucky to live in so much beauty—greening trees, moss-covered rocks, and the heavenly blue of the water around us. And say, Canal Road is really in good shape. If you go that way, don't stop until you've seen the flowers at Teeces—a veritable sea of blossoms. . . Those Leicester sheep at Mumfords' are show animals if we are any judge. A handsome flock, big, with clean faces and legs, and the lambs are as agile as gazelles. . . A nice thing about the islands is the people you run into from neighboring islands. Way down at Bedwell, who is busy surveying a road into the Indian Reservation lands but Adrian Wolfe-Milner, of Ganges. Access courtesy of the W. D. Gills, and Bedwell Harbour Enterprises. . . And Bedwell—well, it's a bee hive of activity. In less than three weeks the customs port opens for the summer season. Ships ahoy!

OUT OF THE MIXING BOWL That Kitchen Drawer!

By MURIEL WILSON
In the drawer were an old hat band, an odd glove, several obsolete keys, three used-up lipstick cases, empty pill bottles, used jar rings, bits of chalk, pieces of string, a mouse trap, some empty spoons, a fur covered button, etc. and etc. Yesterday, Patti visiting for the Easter holidays cleaned out "the kitchen drawer". What a conglomeration of useless odds and ends! What queer quirk makes a person save such things? Why do we put broken cups on the top shelf and empty boxes, paper bags, discarded curtains and lamp shades in the attic? Women are not the only savers . . . soon there won't be room for the car in our garage.

I wish someone would tell me where to get rid of old newspapers. Newspapers used to be useful. We used them to light the furnace and the kitchen range, we rolled them up to swat flies, the dog and kids; we wrapped the block of ice in the icebox with newspaper to make it last longer and many a time I've come home from school to find the kitchen floor freshly scrubbed and wall-to-wall newspapered to save it from muddy feet. Today no one seems to want them. I read a piece in the paper about someone who was going to process old newspapers into food for cows. If any cow owners would like to experiment I'd be happy to donate the newspapers. Spring brings the urge for clean sweeps of cupboards, drawers, attics and garages.

HOUSE CLEANING
This time it is not only the house that needs cleaning . . . human brains get dull and dusty too. It is a good thing to sweep out our mental houses and let some sunshine in. Now is a good time to turn out old ideas, old grudges, old troubles and old fears. It is surprising how good one feels after a downright mental house-cleaning.

Each year Fashion creates a new woman. . . This year it's the relaxed look . . . a loosened silhouette with a meandering waistline. Some waistlines have slipped to the top of the hips and the skirt lengths are as short as you dare to wear them. Something for everyone might be the fashion slogan for this year . . . slim styles are a natural for the slender gal, while the flared and pleated skirts will be a blessing for the lady who likes to keep her hip measurement a secret. What am I doing talking about fashion? well I'll tell you . . . reading and hearing so much about this "relaxed look" started me thinking about how new clothes affect our daily lives.

Good Queen Bess' fierce temper may not have been caused entirely by her arch enemy, the King of Spain. She sat on the throne of Merrie England in a suffocating contraption of metal bands, padded with leather and velvet, which constricted the body from just below the bosom to low down on the hips. It opened by a hinge at one side (a far cry from today's zipper). Metal strips, whalebone and lacing (the lacing were dampened so that they shrunk as they dried) were used to tighten the waist. Women couldn't eat, they could hardly breathe, they fainted with alarming regularity. With the "easy" styles of today a woman should be sweet tempered and extremely amiable. Take hats . . . of course any new hat is a spirit raiser but the current tall hats really do something for the shortie (like me), or the timid or the girl with an inferiority complex. I won't get into any controversy about what a tall hat does for a tall girl but to us shorties,

The hat that gives height to our stature also gives height to our thinking.

Moods can be expressed in a woman's clothes . . . a black sheath with a swooping low back expresses femininity making the wearer feel alluring and holdy confident. While just the opposite is achieved by the woman wearing a limp girdle, old slacks and a shapeless T shirt . . . this warns the world to keep away from her door. See what I mean.

Canine Honors Go To Two Dogs From Island Training Course

Two doggy pals from Walker Hook Road journeyed off the island on Friday and Saturday, March 31 and April 2, to pick up two cups and ribbons, to add to the splendid record of the Dog Obedience Training Club.

Kim, the beagle, owned by Mrs. Phyllis Hoffman, completed his C.D.X. with wins in Victoria at the Greater Victoria Kennel Club trials with 195 points, taking the Open B cup, and then the next evening at the Mount Brenton trials, held at Chemainus, with 192 points, good enough for the Open B cup there.

Kim completed his C.D.X. with three cup wins and that is exceptional.

His pal, Rebel, owned by T. Hare, completed his novice trials with a win at Victoria — once again he had to leave to catch that ferry and is not sure of his points — and it means that Rebel completed his novice trials with three wins in three tries, and still has a couple of lessons left on his training.

Mrs. Harkema's Casey, Salt Spring Island's favorite poodle, went along for the ride, but decided he might just as well pick up another ribbon for his C.D.X. which he did with 187 points at Chemainus. These dogs and others were in action again on Saturday, April 8, at Mahon Hall.

Chant—Spiders—Officers

By MERIDA A. CUMMINGS.

Why is it that Europe, including Britain, is beginning to change from their old school system to one more comparable to that used in the United States, and yet we are told through the Chant Report that we must pattern our school system on the old European and British way of doing things. Where does that leave us? They are progressing, so we must be retrogressing.

Did you know that only seven schools in British Columbia have driving instruction courses and that the students pay their own tuition fee, approximately $40? And it is given after school hours by a qualified driving school? Is this what they call a frill?

Gals, don't worry about the spiders in your house. They are a good sign for the housekeeper and a bad sign for the silver fish and termites. This was reported at an Audubon lecture in Vancouver not long ago. The lecturer said that he liked to see the odd (Oh, I guess that I can't leave them all) cobweb around a person's house as it is an indication that there will be no termites or silver fish. The spiders eat these juicy morsels and save house underpinnings and your clothing. From the size of the spiders we have around here I'd say that this house should stand for a thousand years!

We like this one. A British army officer and an American army officer were arguing the respective merits of their military systems. It was a matter of which were the better disciplined. To prove his point the British officer offered his company forward. They were headed towards the edge of a high cliff. As they got closer and closer to the edge the American became more and more nervous. Finally he could stand it no longer, and said, "For heavens sake say something . . . even if it's only good-bye."

March 1960 Was Slightly Warmer

According to the Ganges weather observer, H. J. Carlin, the high temperature of 56 deg. Fah. for the month of March was recorded on the 26th and 29th.

Low was 30 deg. Fah. on the 3rd and 4th. There was 6.27 in. of precipitation, including the snow on the 3rd and 5th.

Last year's high in March was 60 deg. Fah. the low 25 deg. Fah. Rainfall was 5.71.

Disappointed Patrons Miss Ferry By Eight Minutes

Sunday afternoon travellers who boarded the Cy Peck from Gulf Islands ports, confident of connecting with the government ferry "Sidney" at Swartz Bay, at 3 p.m., were left waiting at the gate at the terminal until the 3 o'clock sailing of the "Tsawwassen" . . . and they were not amused.

The Cy Peck left the last call, Port Washington, right on time, at 1.40 p.m. The government ferries have an understanding with the Gulf Islands Ferry Company that sailings may be delayed 10 minutes in order that islanders' passengers may, in a tight schedule, have time to make the long portage around to the compound, get their tickets and board.

On Sunday, something went wrong. One version says the Motor Princess hugged the slip too long and delayed the Cy Peck's docking. Another version has it that the Cy Peck entered the slip at 2.55 p.m. and the Sidney slipped out eight minutes later, just as feverish passengers fell gasping at the gates.

Allegedly, the captain of the Sidney was informed by radio telephone from the Cy Peck en route, that passengers for the Sidney were aboard. Another explanation is that the Motor Princess was instructed to wait at Fulford for 15 minutes past scheduled sailing time, in case of any last minute passengers!

Whatever the confusion it resulted in exasperation, both for the stranded passengers as well as for their friends and relatives who had driven out to Tsawwassen, expecting to meet them at 4.40 p.m. and had to cool their heels there until 6.40 p.m.

Regular monthly meeting of H.M.S. Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held in the board room at Mahon Hall, Ganges, on Friday, Apr. 7, with the regent, Mrs. Earl Hardie presiding.

Arrangements were discussed for the Empire Day celebration at the Ganges school. The education secretary, Mrs. H. J. Carlin, reported sending a good parcel of seeds to the school at Tatlayoko for the children's gardens.

An interesting letter was read from a member at present in Williams Lake concerning the Tatlayoko school, with colored photos of the school and children, taken by the clergyman who visits there twice a year.

It was decided to have a talent table at the evening of May 3. The chapter is planning to hold a donation tea early in June to raise money for the scholarship, given annually in the Ganges school.

Warm, Wet March Aids Growth But Delays Seeding Here

The weather for March was characterized by above normal temperature and rainfall and below normal sunshine, according to the monthly report of the meteorological bureau at the Experiment Farm, Saanichton. The monthly mean temperature was 43.6 deg. Fah., 1.1 degrees above the normal.

There was a total of 118.5 hours of bright sunshine compared to the 48-year average of 137.3 hours.

From an agricultural standpoint, the month has been favorable. The lowest temperature recorded during the first three months of 1961 was 26 deg. Fah. and may and pasture crops continued to grow slowly. Spring bulbs and flowers were earlier than normal but wet weather during the last week delayed the ploughing and seeding and general farm operations are about normal for this area.

Founders Plan To Purchase Golf Course On Salt Spring

Option to purchase the golf course property from the present owner, C. W. Harrison, was voted on at the meeting of the founders of the proposed Golf and Country Club, held April 4, at Harbour House, Salt Spring Island. There were 35 members attending the meeting.

F. Trethewey, chairman of the meeting, spoke fully on the proposition as a whole. He warned the members that it would be a mistake to spend any of the trust money in taking up the option unless they were fully satisfied that it was a good, sound, workable project. The speaker explained that full support and an agreement was necessary.

Different members expressed their opinions. Jack West, from a prepared statement, made a good point of the fact that it was not the buying or leasing of the property that was the most important phase, but the election of strong and responsible members of the community, who were willing and able to carry on from start to finish.

He felt, "we were getting the horse before the cart" and the directors should be elected before an option was taken up. A. M. Brown asserted, "we should take up the option and purchase the property, that in any event the real estate in itself has enough value to make the idea sound."

W. M. Mout expressed the opinion that the property should be purchased once and for all to end all uncertainty.

When the vote was taken it was not unanimous, three voting against the proposition. It was felt that the money collected, being in trust, should only be used with complete agreement. Those members not in accord are at liberty to withdraw their money.

F. Trethewey, S. Quinton and W. H. Bradley, who comprised the option negotiation committee, were authorized to buy the option and take the necessary steps to form the new organization.

Racial And Religious Intolerance

By MADELEINE TILL
I do not pretend to be an authority on racial and religious intolerance, but it is a subject that has always interested me coming as I do from the multi-racial island of Ceylon, which consists of Buddhist, Sinhalese, Hindu Tamils, Moslems, Parsees, Europeans and mixtures of all these.

There is no getting around the fact that prejudice does exist. We know that throughout the world today men are filled with hatred against other men who are of a different race or color. And it is not only the white races who are guilty of discrimination: the Arabs hate the Jews, Hindus and Moslems are at loggerheads in India, in 1958 riots broke out in Ceylon between Sinhalese and Tamils, the Indonesians are trying to rid themselves of three million Chinese.

are different, is one of the main barriers to understanding between peoples. Prejudice is another. This is a pre-conceived judgment, usually unfavorable, held in disregard of facts that contradict it. Sweeping generalizations about racial character are dangerous. It is wrong to brand a whole race or group because some of its members have this or that unpleasant characteristic.

Racial prejudice is often complicated and irrational, many are influenced in their judgments of others by externals. A Norwegian officer on a ship told me he did not like the Chinese because they have such small, crafty eyes. Some are disturbed by a Jewish nose, others by a dark skin or woolly hair.

Although mankind can be divided in three main groups ethnically,

Many words relating to race subtly imply feelings of prejudice, yid for Jew, chink for Chinese, yid or nigger for negro.

The adjective black, brown and yellow are simply descriptive words if applied to paints or materials, but applied to races they suggest grades of merit or inferiority. White carries with it the idea of cleanliness or purity.

Justification for racial discrimination against dark-skinned peoples started when the British and Iberian mariners set out on their voyages of exploration and had the opportunity to dominate dark-skinned races. It is common for the conqueror to despise the vanquished, and, to pacify their consciences over harsh treatment of natives they asserted that they were inferior and scarcely human creatures. England was engaged in the slave trade since 1562 and in the 17th century they used slave labor on a large scale in Virginia and the West Indies. The cotton growing areas of America imported more and more negro slaves in the 18th century.

NO SOLUTION

Unfortunately, the abolition of slavery did not solve their problems and we all know the difficulties that are being encountered with the integration of schools in the south. It will take a long time to destroy the prejudice of centuries.

Because of his centuries of technical superiority the white man's pride in his color produces the belief that being white is in some way superior to being brown, yellow or black. But history shows that he has not always been at a high level of civilization. When Julius Caesar invaded Britain the future builders of the British Empire dressed in the skins of animals and stained their bodies with woad. The Chinese invented paper; porcelain, gunpowder and printing

At a recent meeting of the writer, Rotaine Till prominent North Saanich concert pianist and Sidney, Madeleine Till addressed members on the subject of racial intolerance. A world traveller, Mrs. Till spoke of the constant ill-feeling everywhere between peoples of different color, race and creed and urged that a program of education be encouraged to teach children to ignore superficial differences. Her address to the Sidney club is reprinted verbatim.

centuries ago. The Arabs invented Algebra, which prejudices me against them, as I was never any good at it in school. Racial tolerance should not depend on the physical or intellectual achievements of any group. People differ in all sorts of ways, but difference is one thing and superiority is another. Peoples might be compared with the plant world where different species produce flowers and fruit at different times. We do not think the strawberry is superior to the grape because it fruits earlier.

Racial prejudice includes some colored people to share the white man's view that they are inferior. Such is the power of suggestion.

I have heard how some mothers of fair-skinned children would forbid them to go into the sun for fear they would become dark. Another bleached her children's hair with peroxide in the hope that they would pass as European. There are even preparations on the market guaranteed to make dark skins lighter. Some cultivate the society of Europeans because they feel they acquire a better social status if they are seen in their company. Racial prejudice deprives some people of the courage to be themselves, like the Jewish girl at my school in London who had her nose altered, and like the negroes who can now have their hair darkened. People are funny. Dark people want to be fair, and the whites in Europe and elsewhere spend hours on beaches and under sunlamps, or buy preparations to give them the sunburned look which is so fashionable today.

In the past, as today, unscrupulous men have whipped up popular feeling against various groups as a means of distracting the people from enquiry into the causes of disasters which befall them. In his excellent book on Race Prejudice, Dr. Cyril Bibby cites the examples of the persecutions of the Christians and Jews in Roman times, the inquisition of heretics and the burning of witches.

HANDY SCAPEGOAT

The Jews have always been a handy scapegoat and provide an outlet for fear and frustration. After Germany's defeat in the First World War and the loss of her colonies, they needed to vent their spleen on someone. It bolstered their ego to assert their aryan superiority, an unnecessary procedure in view of the outstanding men they have produced in the arts and sciences. Hitler started his campaign against the Jews in 1923. A German friend of mine recently expressed the opinion that all Nazis are paranoics. Paranoia is a disease that produces cunning, but insane criminals who are afflicted with persecution mania.

I was in Leipzig from 1931 to 1933 studying music. Not all Germans were Nazis, by all means, but they had to pretend to be in sympathy in order to keep their jobs. However, the frenzied broadcasts, the vilification in the press, the hate magazines, live Der Struemer, impressed a large portion of the German people.

When I first went to Leipzig, the Jews were able to carry on their professions. After the burning of the Reichstag, supposed to have been engineered by Communists, and Hitler's accession to power, all Jews, including those who may have had Jewish grandparents, were forbidden to practise their professions. The only exceptions were those who had fought for Germany in the First War.

There were large notices in some squares "No Jews Allowed". Huge parades were held in the squares and hundreds of brown-shirted men, carrying banners, singing patriotic songs, marched through the streets periodically shouting "Germany Awake! and May the Jews Perish!"

LIVING under a dictatorship is a stifling experience in more senses than one. If one wished to talk politics at home all the windows were closed. In restaurants people lowered their voices if a waiter stood within earshot, as he might have been a Nazi informer.

The persecution of the Jews must have started because they are the people who rejected Jesus. They are an international group and their successes, commercially and intellectually, arouse envy. The theory that mixed races are inferior is disproved in the case of the Jews. They are probably the most mixed race on earth as they have wandered through many countries. They produced Spinoza, the philosopher; Freud with his new theories of psycho-analysis; Karl Marx, the advocate of socialism; Mendelssohn, Meyerbeer, Mahler, Schoenberg, Gershwin, Aaron Copeland, all musical composers; pianists Schnabel, Solomon, Horowitz, Serkin, Rubinstein; violinists Heifetz, Menuhin, Kreisler, Elman, conductors Koussevitzky and Briza Walter. They are prominent in the field of entertainment, the theatre and the movies.

They were persecuted with the infidels in the Crusades, gradually they were excluded from former occupations and forced into peddling, the second-hand trade and the unpleasant job of money-lender which explains why they excel in business. Hundreds of Jewish communities were destroyed in Poland and Russia in the infamous pogroms of those countries. In Germany, millions perished in gas chambers or starved to death in concentration camps. Could anti-Semitism be rooted in the fact that the Jews preserve their entity as a people and refuse to be annihilated? A Jewish friend of mine in England compared his race to a tree: the more you prune it the stronger it will grow.

BOILING CAULDRON

We who are fortunate enough to live in this land of peace look on with anxiety at Africa which seems like a huge cauldron ready to boil over.

In South Africa, the white minority in order to make themselves secure have resorted to the harsh methods of apartheid. A Sinhalese friend who passed through Cape Town told me he could not get a haircut anywhere because of his color. During the war a party of New Zealanders broke up a place because of discrimination against some Maoris. The New Zealanders have a particularly enlightened attitude towards the Maoris who are treated in every way as equals.

During the last war I spent two years in Kenya where my husband was the staff officer, intelligence, at the naval base in Mombasa. I was a bit nervous of the reaction of the Kenya settlers towards myself, as however, if they had any feelings of prejudice, they never showed them, and I spent a very interesting and happy time in that country. Kenya is a multi-racial land with Negroes, Arabs, Indians, Goans, Seychellois—a mixture of French and Negro—Europeans. Each group kept to itself and had its own clubs, societies and schools. Society in the two colonies I know, Ceylon (now a dominion) and Kenya might be compared to a many-layered cake. The boundaries of the different groups touched but seldom crossed.

RISING TENSION

On the whole, the Englishman is tolerant in his own country. But even there, since the large influx of West Indian labor, there have been accounts of racial tension brought about through competition for jobs. Indians and other dark-skinned people may find it difficult to get accommodation. It is possible that because many of the colored men in Europe are seamen or unskilled laborers, the European tends to associate a dark skin with a social inferior.

Now that the period of white supremacy is ending, the danger will be that the new countries may develop an anti-white complex. Six years ago when my ship called at Jakarta in Indonesia, a number of laborers undressed themselves on the dock to the consternation of a party of American missionaries who wished to go ashore. It was their way of showing contempt for the white race. More recently, there have been accounts of brutal treatment of white nuns and other white women in the Congo, and of the violent actions of Congolese against white U.N. troops.

It is good to note that in Canada any suspected instances of racial discrimination are quickly investigated, and that the press is swift to expose examples of prejudice against East Indians or Chinese who may experience difficulty in buying or renting property in so-called exclusive districts. It is good to see East Indian, Chinese and white Canadian children going to the same schools. The integration of Indian school children is making progress. In 1957 only 137 Indian children attended non-Indian schools. Last year 9,479 enrolled at integrated schools.

RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS

Canada's Bill of Rights which came into being last year shows that this country means to preserve human rights and fundamental freedoms.

We must cherish and guard these principles jealously.

Not long ago I read with a feeling of alarm about the formation of a Nazi party in Canada. It is a sinister development and not to be lightly dismissed off, as people did when Hitler started ranting and raving. We must be vigilant against the hideous shape of Fascism rearing its head

and simple statement

"I would like to reiterate my endorsement of a pledge made by The British American Oil Company to the motorists of Canada many years ago:

'We will not permit a single competitor to make a better gasoline.'

"This pledge has always meant exactly what it says. It is a blunt and simple statement that our Company will always be in the forefront of product improvement and that we simply will not permit anyone to exceed us in product quality.

"There is not a single product improvement known to the petroleum industry that is not reflected in the formulation of B-A 88 and Velvet 98 gasolines."

"Whether or not you are knowledgeable about recent advances in petroleum refining...whether you are enlightened or confused by claims and counter-claims...the important thing for you, as a buyer of gasoline, is to have a dependable and continuing yardstick of quality.

"We offer the B-A pledge as that yardstick—as precise and accurate a statement as when we first made it:

'We will not permit a single competitor to make a better gasoline.'

Maritime Museum Proves Its Worth To Casual Visitor

We are hearing a lot about the Maritime Museum which is seeking a better and bigger location. Have you visited the museum on Signal Hill, Esquimalt Road? If not, do go. It will well repay a visit.

I am not sure which of the two main sections is most interesting. The section housed in the first building deals with the past, the early naval explorers with their Royal Navy traditions, while the modern part in the second building brings us up to date with our own Royal Canadian Navy.

These old buildings of red brick with slate roofs and dormer windows, originally housed naval ratings and their families, but the steep narrow staircases are still there in use.

As you enter, and write your name in the visitors' book and pay your modest 25 cents, you are back in the past—a delightful swinging boat cradle catches the eye and perhaps many a young naval officer slept in one like it 100 years ago. Would its gentle swing accustom him to the roll of waves in a high sea one wonders!

ALABASTER BUST
Lord Nelson's room is dominated by the fine marble or alabaster bust, given the museum by Prince Philip after his visit to Victoria. Even the steel rings of Nelson's eyeglasses are there—and specimens of records and logs. What wonderful handwriting

ST. PAUL'S W.A. WILL MEET MAY 3

Regular monthly meeting of the W.A. of St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, was held in the church parlors on Wednesday afternoon, Apr. 5, with 16 members and one visitor present.

President Mrs. Dawson was in the chair and opened the meeting with a hymn. The devotional was taken by Mrs. Pedlow with an Easter theme, "Where Seek Ye The Christ?"

Minutes of the last meeting and reports of circles were read. Plans for the new educational hall were shown. The building is to be completed this fall.

Meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction. No host lunch was enjoyed by all. Next meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 3.

those old naval men had. Some records almost need a magnifying glass to decipher them.

Each small room, formerly bedrooms, each with small English fireplaces, is devoted to a different branch of naval lore. Weapons, swords, firearms, pikes, devices for signals, old ships' lanterns, pumps and intricate mechanical devices which only the curator could explain!

Models of ships of all kinds are always fascinating, especially those one sees in glass bottles! A huge German flag with Swastika and Iron Cross dominates yet another small room.

The second section is reached through a passageway lined with white lifebuoys centred with lovely heraldic badges and crests of our own Royal Canadian Navy.

Uniforms, diving suits, copper vessels which held measures of rum, barrels with "The Queen God Bless Her" in copper letters; another bears the fine motto, Fear God and Honour the Queen (King).

Specimens of naval china, even small coffee cups which look too delicate for their strenuous life are hanging in another showcase.

You should go and see the many treasures housed in that small museum. Lt. Commander Cassels, the curator, will be only too glad to show you over. It is, as the program asserts, "The romance of yesteryear for young and old alike. . . . A visit to the museum will linger in your memory for years to come."—D.L.H.

MORE ABOUT PREJUDICE

In Canada, waving a monstrous banner of hate for minority groups. These accounts of Fascism activity in Canada gave me the feeling I would have on hearing that a friend of mine had developed leprosy or some other cruel disease. It is a disease that could spread if economic conditions deteriorate.

And what can we do about it? The individual citizen feels powerless to counter evil forces which are organized by unscrupulous men.

The only way we can kill the poisonous plant of Fascism is to create a climate that will cause it to wither away and die. And that climate is tolerance towards our fellow creatures. We must start with the youth of our country. Parents should co-operate and work for opportunities for different groups to get to know each other. We should examine our activities in social behavior. Are we afraid of what people might say or think if we associated with races different from ourselves?

The other day, I realized that a talk on racial prejudice would mean little to someone who was blind, because prejudice is based almost entirely on visual impressions. And I thought if we could be blind to external things like color, hair, language, and customs, and if we were deaf to ugly insinuations against races or minority groups, we would be well on the way to building a happier world for ourselves.

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT TO FEATURE MEISTERSINGERS

The Meistersingers will headline the list of professional and top amateur performers who will star in "Hawaiian Holiday" at North Saanich high school on April 29. An evening of music, songs and dancing set in a lush South Seas atmosphere and blended into a tale of Hawaii that will provide continuity to the varied numbers.

Directed by Ted Boulden, the Meistersingers are composed of 20 male voices and is an ensemble that today is being rated very highly in the entertainment circles. This group will present several choral numbers with a South Seas flavor and will include many favorites. Hans Steffan, a new and very promising bass, will appear as soloist.

CONTRIBUTORS
The group will be augmented by the inimitable Betty and Her Buddies, Marjory Sturgeon as a soloist and as a member of a quartet featuring Betty Buchan, Sheila McMorran and Doris Kroeger, and by Alberta Stelck as a Hawaiian dancer. Betty's Buddies are also members of the Meistersingers and most of the feminine artists are wives of the group.

Scout News

"B" pack of the 1st Tsartist (Sidney) Cubs recently spent a most interesting and educational afternoon at the Provincial Museum in Victoria. Highlight of the Sunday trip came when the museum attendant allowed the boys to hold the California boa snake and some turtles. The 20 boys were in charge of two leaders, and Mrs. W. Stanton and Messrs. Hawkins, Clark and Peake supplied transportation and helped to supervise. During the Easter holidays the pack was invited to attend the Indoor Campfire program held by the Cedar Hill District Cub packs at the Bay Street Armouries. Fifteen of the boys attended with leaders Nora Cook and Frank Spear. Transportation was supplied by Mrs. K. Thorne, Mrs. C. Bath and R. C. Anderson.

New chums recently added to "B" pack are Michael Nixon, Guy Lawrence and Simon Osborne. Bryce Hawkins has earned his First Star and the White Six, under Sixer Nicky Lott won the monthly pennant for inspection and behavior.

OLYMPIC NIGHT
Sidney "A" pack held an Olympic Night before the Easter recess, when except for the opening and closing "Howl", the entire evening was spent playing games designed to represent olympic events. The "shot-put", with bean-bags; the "hammer-throw" with a tail on a solid ball of wool; a "30-inch dash" as the boys gobbled up a 30-inch piece of string, and the "broad-jump" as tape measures were used to find the widest "Club Grin" were some of the many events designed for fun and skill. White Six and Green Six were tied for points at the end of the games, with a tie-breaker point going to the Green Six under Pat Eckert. Newest Chum, Robert Seantlebury was invested as a Cub and a second year star was presented to Brian Dowd.

How much protection?

The Traffic Victims Indemnity Fund is being established to protect residents of British Columbia who are innocent victims in traffic accidents caused by hit-and-run drivers, drivers of stolen cars, drivers who are not licensed and drivers who cannot pay damages.

When it becomes fully operational, it will combine with new limits for Pink Slip insurance to give British Columbians the most complete protection for traffic victims in North America.

Starting January 1, 1962, the Fund will protect you financially up to $25,000 for injury and property damage in cases when you cannot collect from the motorist responsible. The protection if you are the victim of an insured motorist will also be at least $25,000.

In the meantime—from June 1 to January 1—T.V.I.F. will protect you up to $10,000 if you alone are injured; and, subject to that limit for any one person, up to $20,000 if others are injured with you in the same accident; up to $2,000, subject to a $200 deductible, if you suffer property damage (except when property damage is caused by a hit-and-run driver.)
